Overflow Audience Attends Closing Session Of Times' Cooking School On Thursday; Two Home Economists Are Given Ovation

By MISS JOAN HABECKER

Times Social Editor

Miss Layne Chapman, home economist with the National Livestock and Meat Board, Chicago, Ill., and her able assistant, Miss Janice Plager, presented and demonstrated ten different recipes to an overflow audience in the "Foods Go Modern" theme Thursday evening in the final program in the "Foods With A Flair" cooking school, which was sponsored by The Gettysburg Times this week in the Gettysburg High School auditorium. Both women were given a prolonged ovation.

As in the previous sessions the climax of the lecture-demonstration came when Miss Chapman, assisted by Miss Darlene Funt and Miss Rosalie Furman as pages, presented the "Parade Of Foods." Using different colored tablecloths and trimmings, she reviewed her efforts of the evening by showing each dish to the audience on a revolving table with a mirror.

Use Slow, Low Heat

Miss Chapman again stressed the importance of cooking with low, slow heat. Freezers and freezer compartments should maintain a temperature of zero degrees for most efficient storage of foods, she said. Fresh meats should be stored in a shallow pan or dish with waxed paper covering it, and smoked meats, Miss Chapman said, are best kept in a moisture-proof covering so as to keep the odor from getting into other foods stored in the same place.

While demonstrating pork roast moderne, Miss Chapman pointed out that tender cuts of oven made meats should be cooked with no water and no cover, but, instead be placed on a rack to keep it up out of the juices. The meat thermometer bulb should reach the center of the thickest part without resting in fat so that it registers properly.

Mixing Ingredients

As she mixed up holiday cake, Miss Chapman said that in using wax paper-wrapped dry ingredients she avoided tangling the spatula with the beaters. Mixing all dry ingredients together before adding to the liquid part aids the blending process. The sides of the mixing bowl should be kept clean with the spatula at intervals. Egg whites should not be overbeaten or they get dry and thus make folding them into the batter a difficult job. Cake flour doesn't give the same brown effect as all-purpose flour; so to have the same amount of brownness on the top and bottom of the cake put lard and all-purpose flour in the pan bottom.

To prevent tunnels from being in a cake, care must be taken in mixing the batter well. For a final get-rid-of-the-air-bubbles step just drop the pan and its contents, right side up, onto the table, Miss Chapman said. Flat or slightly higher sides on a cake can be had by giving the cake pan a spin before popping it into the oven.

Lemon Delight Frosting

The frosting for the holiday cake that Miss Chapman prepared was lemon delight frosting, which is similar to seven-minute frosting with grated lemon rind.

Browning Meat

The modern trend, Miss Chapman said, is for housewives to want only a cut of meat, no bone, when shopping. She used a boneless rolled rump to make a new fashioned pot roast. Pot roasts, she said, are similar to steaks in that they can be brown or light depending upon whether the meat is browned or not. Salt used before browning helps the brown particles to come off the meat and in that way aids the braising process. Browning meat on all sides assures a better finished product. Gravies should be properly thickened to keep out lumps. Shaking the flour and either fat or water in a jar is a good method for gravy mixing, Miss Chapman suggested.

As she prepared barbecued lamb chops, Miss Chapman pointed out that lamb offers a great variety in food planning. It is tender and therefore easy to prepare. Only in making lamb chops should the fell, a thin parchment covering over the fat, be removed since it would otherwise cause the meat to shrivel.

10 Minutes To Bake Pie

Butterscotch meringue pie was the sixth modern food that Miss Chapman prepared. She said that the use of cold water in mixing pie crust prevents the lard from melting. To keep the crust an even thickness do not roll over the edges of the dough. When making a one-crust pie, fold the edge under the pie plate rim to keep it from shrinking. "It takes ten minutes to bake a pie," Miss Chapman said, "and ten and one-half to bud it."

Since cornstarch has twice the

OWNER OF CAR IN FATAL MISHAP SUES ESTATE

The owner of a car involved in a fatal accident today brought suit against the estate of the man driving his auto in an action in trespass filed in Adams County court.

Robert W. Yingling, Littlestown R. 1, is seeking $22,062.70 from the estate of Lloyd E. Eller, late of Littlestown R. 1, according to the complaint filed in the prothonotary's office by Yingling by Attorneys Eugene R. Hartman and Robert B. Frey. The action is against Lucy G. Eller, Littlestown R. 1, as administratrix of the estate.

Yingling was badly injured and Eller was killed when Yingling's car, allegedly operated by Eller, collided with a car operated by JoJohn Myles Spangler, Hagerstown.

Reckless Driving Alleged
According to Yingling's complaint, Eller, driving Yingling's car, in which Yingling was a passenger, suddenly swerved across the highway one mile east of Littlestown, on the Littlestown-Hanover Rd., at 8:05 o'clock Christmas night, 1957, while headed toward Hanover.

The Yingling car, also smashed into the Spangler car driving toward Littlestown Eller, 51 at the time, died instantly of a broken neck, fractured skull and internal injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Spangler later died of their injuries. Their four children, in the car with Mr. and Mrs. Spangler on a Christmas visit with relatives in the Hanover-Littlestown area, were injured.

Yingling alleges that Eller was operating his car in a reckless manner. Yingling suffered a severe brain concussion, broken jaw, lacerations of the chin, loss of four teeth and other injuries. He lists his hospital and physician expenses at $1,054.70. He also asks $1,000 loss of wages and $20,000 for pain and suffering.

MISS OHLER IS HONORED BY B. AND P. CLUB

The Gettysburg Business and Professional Women's Club marked "Business Women's Week" and honored Miss Elizabeth Ohler for her services to the YWCA at a supper meeting Thursday evening at the YWCA. Twenty-four attended with the president, Miss Roberta G. Bittinger presiding.

Mrs. Harold R. Sharpe read a letter from the office of Governor Leader designating October 5 to 11 as "Business Women's Week" in honor of the business and professional women of the state.

Miss Elizabeth Ohler, a Business and Professional club member, was presented with a gift by Mrs. William R. Swisher, on behalf of the club, in appreciation of Miss Ohler's services at the YWCA office.

Chairman Lent
Mrs. Charles C. Hauer served as chairman for the supper portion of the session assisted by Miss Christine Angiliori, Miss Rose Armor, Mrs. D. Edwin Benner, Mrs. Edith Bushman and Mrs. Floyd Miller Jr.

Table decorations consisted of pumpkins ears of corn in husks and ivy in a Halloween motif. Pages 245,773 in 262 accidents — more than occurred so far this year.

The accumulated tabulation also shows that the officers, during the first nine months of this year, have made 3,056 patrols and have made 1,253 arrests for traffic violations.

During last month there were 29 auto accidents to which the local state police were called. Two persons were killed, 26 injured and damage totaled $19,810.

During August, 1958, there were 42 accidents in which four were killed, 35 injured and damage was $28,500. In September #657 there were 26 accidents in which one person was killed, 19 were injured and damage was $18,200.

The local state police during September spent 465 hours on 11 criminal investigations during which 12 persons were arrested on criminal charges. The officers also spent 1,277 hours on traffic duty, 1,040 hours on station duty and 524 hours on special assignments. They traveled 26,045 miles during the course of 285 patrols.

Asks For Probe

The fire spread rapidly and by the time firemen arrived the barn was beyond saving. Firemen prevented the fire from spreading to other buildings.

Miller said he asked Adams County Fire Marshal John Murren to investigate the cause of the fire today. Miller said the small shed which first caught fire contained "nothing that should cause a fire.

There were some children's toys in it, some wood and a stove that was not connected and apparently had not been used for a long time.

The building apparently had once been used as a garage, but had not had such use since the Leroy Smith family moved there."

Fire meditation follows:

"I feel sure that I speak for us all when I say that this is not the hour for mourning. The time for mourning has been the span of years during which we have watched a stricken body becoming an increasingly poor instrument for the keen mind and gracious spirit which it housed.

None who knew the Elsie Singmaster Lewars of former years has been untouched by the long, sad ending of a life so rich in talent and so generous in expending it.

But now the time of waiting

RIFLES TO VIE WITH MUSKETS IN SHOOT HERE

The Spangler's Spring area, where soldiers were encamped during the battle of Gettysburg in 1863, will again be a camp site as members of modern Confederate and Union "armies" are bivouacked there during the two-day North-South Skirmish which will be held at Teeter's Quarry Saturday and Sunday.

In the 18th semi-annual staging of the competitive event, teams of riflemen representing both North and South will compete in marksmanship contests, using mid-19th century muskets.

On Saturday there will be an artillery skirmish in which original and reproductions of Civil War cannon will be fired using solid shot. The musket competition will be staged Sunday.

Many of the skirmishers will be dressed in Union or Confederate uniforms and their ladies will wear period costumes.

COUNTY FIRE CHIEFS MEET AT HAMPTON

Fire prevention activities and plans for a potential county-wide Muscular Dystrophy drive were discussed Thursday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Association of Fire Chiefs at the Hampton fire hall.

John Murren, county fire marshal, spoke on fire prevention and was named chairman of a committee to promote advertising of fire prevention facts. Roger Myers, Fairfield fire chief, told the group that several of the county fire companies are planning to take part this year in the Muscular Dystrophy drive in November and that it is hoped that a county-wide set up can be arranged by next year to have a concerted drive for Muscular Dystrophy by all fire companies on one date during the annual nationwide campaign.

McSherrystown Fire Chief Eugene Murren was named chairman of a committee to explore the possibility of having a training school for fire fighting instructors in the county. To Discuss Dial System

President Claude Murren expressed "the pride of the fire chiefs' organization in the manner in which the fire company representatives turned out to attend the Civil Defense bomb reconnaissance school at Gettysburg. We are proud of the men who took the course and completed it so successfully."

The association voted to ask John Caldwell, local United Telephone manager, to meet with them to discuss methods of handling fire calls when the new dial system is installed in the Gettysburg district.

Approval was given to the proposed change in the state law governing operation of the fire police which would permit the fire police to function at all fire company activities.

John Murr, Kingsdale, and John Steiner, New Oxford R. 1, were elected honorary members of the chiefs' association.

Warmer Weather Is On Way Here

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warmer weather appeared on the way today for the chilled sections in the eastern half of the nation after the early October cool spell.

Although temperatures were much higher in the cool belt this morning than for the last couple of days, it still was fairly chilly, especially in Northeast areas.

Lowest readings, in the 30s, were in scattered sections from Pennsylvania to Maine. Temperatures in other parts of the huge cool air mass from east of the Rockies were mostly in the 40s and 50s, with the 60s prevailing near the Gulf Coast and the 70s in most of Florida.

Generally dry weather prevailed.

for her and for us has ended. The life which had become a burden to be borne is at rest. All the hopes of which her Christian faith was the source have passed into fulfillment. This then is an hour for rejoicing with her in suffering ended and in victory won.

I think of the custom of certain Moravian Communities where, upon the death of a faithful member, a band mounts the tower of the church and plays joyous chorales to celebrate the entrance of another child of God into the Father's House. Let that be the spirit which marks our coming together today.

"Our text from the Revelation of St. John sets that theme. The closing words of that passage are especially fitting today: '... (her) works do follow her.'

"This is literally true of the many creations of her gifted pen. Long after memory of her person has faded, readers and especially young readers will find pleasure and profit in her stories and books. These will be a monument finer than any stone to one whose professional life was devoted to fashioning worlds of rare beauty and truth out of words.

Town Forever Her Debtor

"But these are not the only works which will follow her. Artistry and scholarship formed only one side of her character and never kept her aloof from the life of the community around her. This town which she loved and in which she spent most of her life will forever be her debtor.

"The list of civic agencies in whose founding and growth her energies were a major factor is impressive. Nothing designed to lift the level of our community life or to serve the needs of our citizens was alien to her interest.

I am sure that the presence of so many here today is mute tribute, not so much to her role as a woman of letters but to the investment of herself in so much that was good and to her gift for friendship.

"Her works do follow her in our midst and will continue to bless us for years to come.

"Yet our hope today is anchored in something deeper than the continuity of her life through these fruits of her labors. All the promises of our Christian faith are illumined with reality in an hour such as this. From the words of the Holy Scriptures we nurture our confidence that for the child of God death is not the end of life but its beginning.

Quotes Franklin Epitaph

"There is Paul assuring us that neither death nor life... shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus, our Lord. There is John with his vision of that city where 'there shall be no night... and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign forever and ever.'

"And there is the Lord Himself declaring: 'I am the resurrection and the life... he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live and who ever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.'

"In an old churchyard in Philadelphia, there is a tablet on which are inscribed words appropriate also for this servant of God in whose life books have played so important a role: 'The body of B. Franklin, Printer, (Like the Cover of an Old Book, Its Contents Worn Out and Stripped of Its Lettering and Gilding) Lies Here Food for Worms; But the Work Shall Not Be Lost; For It Will (As He Believes) Appear Once More in a New and More Elegant Edition, Revised and Corrected By Its Author.'

Baum Expresses Thanks Of Times To 2 Economists And Patrons Of Cooking School

In closing the 1958 Times cooking school Thursday evening Carl A. Baum, advertising manager of The Gettysburg Times, expressed the thanks and appreciation of the newspaper to the home economists for "the best school we have ever had" and to the many hundreds of patrons who attended the school. He said in part as follows:

"In the long history of The Gettysburg Times cooking schools, we have always had good reason to be proud of the school and of its accomplishments.

"The Gettysburg Times takes particular pride in the school this year. This is the finest ever. It is with genuine appreciation that we pay tribute to Miss Layneigha Chapman and Miss Janice Plager and the National Livestock and Meat Board for the three wonderful sessions that have comprised the 1958 school.

Inspired By Loyalty

"These delightful young ladies have endeared themselves to the large audiences that have attended the three sessions. We have marveled at their ability and have been inspired by their loyalty to their profession and the organization which they represent and by their enthusiasm in endeavoring to establish 'Foods With A

Flair' as a reality that is definitely something more than a mere slogan.

"Why does The Gettysburg Times conduct an annual cooking school? The Times considers its annual cooking school as one of the major of its many community and public services. It is not alone that food constitutes the major item of the family budget, that it commands the most of the homemaker's time and ingenuity. Cooking is a creative art, developed to its utmost potential. In this sense, it, like any other art, can be a satisfying and thoroughly enjoyable experience. Cooking is an individual matter that brings into play imagination, artistry and an incomparably stimulating sense of real accomplishment.

Massive Display

"In its sponsorship of a cooking school each year, The Gettysburg Times brings together the grower, the producer, the processor, the distributor and the retailer plus the appliance dealer, the packager and the transporter and interspersed among all of them is the researcher and the marketer.

"It brings together a massive display that illustrates the many phases of activity that are involved in developing the American standard of good living . . . illustrated, most aptly, by the phrase — meat on the table.

Carl A. Baum, advertising manager of The Gettysburg Times and director of the cooking school.

thickening power as flour the recipe substitutions in either case should be made accordingly. Two kinds of open faced pies that Miss Chapman spoke of are the cream filled and custard. The cream filling is thickened with cornstarch or flour, and the custard with eggs.

In placing meringue on a pie make sure that the filling is completely sealed, Miss Chapman said. Be careful not to get the peaks too high or they will burn. She decorated the pie by butterly hopping a spoon over the beat egg white to make an artistic design.

Weepy Meringue

Weepy meringue, Miss Chapman said, is caused by one of three reasons—too much humidity, too high or too low oven temperature, and not mixing the meringue well enough.

Cream of tartar, which strengthens egg white cells, should be added when the beaten eggs are beaten to have foamy color or begin to have foamy white consistency to keep the meringue at a minimum.

Casseroles

Casseroles have become a great favorite. They are complete meals and can be prepared in advance. Another advantage of the casserole is that leftovers can be used in the recipe. Veal au gratin was made to demonstrate this type of modern food. Cracker crumbs and dry cereals used for toppings protect the protein sauce as well as add flavor to casseroles. "Meat is protein food and we cannot stress too much the importance of low heat cookery," Miss Chapman said. A too high temperature will also cause milk to curdle, she pointed out, and said that care needs to be taken in making the casserole sauce.

Nutritive Value

As she prepares easyburgers, Miss Chapman uses unground meat. In broiling, meat has just as much nutritive value as ground meat. Chapman mentioned that ground meat has just as much nutritive value as unground meat.

News From Nearby Counties

FREDERICK COUNTY

Alton C. Twenty, 53, Frederick city policeman, was struck by a skidding automobile Wednesday as unground meat. In broiling, the length of time is determined by the thickness of the meat and its distance from the heat. It should be turned only once for browning and seasoning purposes.

The panbroiling method of cooking was demonstrated with streamlined ham roll. Panbroiling means to add neither fat nor water to the meat, which is placed in a heavy frying pan, and to drain off the fat as it accumulates. A low heat should be used and the meat should be left uncovered, turning occasionally to brown it on both sides.

Dreampuffs brought the session to a close. They are basically the same as pop-over. Drop a glob of the dough onto a baking sheet with a tablespoon, making it round for creampuffs or drawing it out for eclairs. Give the puffs plenty of room to expand. After they are baked, slice off the tops and stick them back in the oven for ten minutes to dry out the inside. They can be placed in the freezer until party time when ice cream or salted water can be added to make an ordinary cream puff become a dream.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
Allies On Road To Rome: Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Oct. 2 (AP) — British and American troops, feverishly welcomed by the surviving population of Naples, forged on past that devastated city today and fought steadily northward toward Rome and the next defense line of the Germans.

Meeting sharp opposition by German tanks, mortars and machine guns, the forces of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark were said in a communiqué to be making good progress, both to the north of the captured port city and to the east. * * *

County Goes Over The Top In Bond Drive: Spurred on by their patriotic enthusiasm for an early Allied Nations' Victory, Adams countians roared down the home stretch of the Third War Bond campaign and smashed out a scorching "OVER THE TOP" message that will have repercussions on every Allied Battlefront.

The goal was $2,134,100, the greatest financial undertaking in the history of the county.

Shortly before 10 o'clock this morning, some 14 hours before the deadline of midnight tonight, Adams countians had answered the challenge to the joyful tune of $2,141,577.25 — an oversubscription of $7,477.25 — with more to come. * * *

Firemen Will Operate Two Raid Pumps: The local Fire company was appointed to operate the two trailer-pumpers sent here by the Office of Civilian Defense, at a meeting of the Gettysburg Council of Defense at the engine house Monday evening.

Control of the pumper remains with the Council of Defense, the members pointed out in formally turning over to Fire Chief James A. Aumen the operation of the vehicles.

Defense Council Chairman LeRoy H. Winebrenner presided at the meeting. * * *

DAR Chapter Meets Friday: Boys War Bond: The Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution authorized the purchase of its third $100 war bond and reviewed its activities for the last year — including active participation in many phases of the war effort — at the first fall meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. T. Huddle, Carlisle street.

The guest speaker was Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, head of the department of history at Gettysburg college and president of the Adams county Historical society.

His subject was "Our Background of Freedom." * * *

Dry Weather Record Is Set In September: Showers that arrived Thursday evening came too late to prevent September from going down in Gettysburg weather records as the driest September in Gettysburg in 40 years and the fourth driest month in that entire period.

Dr. Henry Stewart's September weather records closed at 5 o'clock Thursday evening and showed that last month saw only .46 inches of rain, a shortage of 3.18 inches below normal. That shortage increases to 10.43 inches the mounting deficit of rainfall for Gettysburg that has built up since June 1. * * *

Urge Disposal Plant Project Here After War: Completion of the present borough sewage system by addition to the disposal plant was urged Monday evening by Borough Engineer LeRoy H. ## Today's Talk

START SMALL—THINK BIG Few decisions are so thrilling and exciting as that of starting in a business of your own. You will face the same decisions, the same discouragements, and the same hunger of soul, that thousands of others have experienced.

The late Col. W. R. Nelson once told me that he started the Kansas City Star with a pair of shears and a paste pot! He showed me his precious first copy — the size of our modern tabloids. Nelson started small, but thought big. After his death that Kansas City Star sold for $10,000,000! Today it is one of the dominating newspapers in America.

I started my own interesting newspaper syndicate with less than ten cents! I rented my office, got my furniture, put to life some ideas that I had, and with these I made a deal with faith. I am still thriving in a successful business!

After graduating from Ottawa University at Ottawa, Kansas, I debated about going to Chicago to start my fortune. But a dear friend, Cora Mel Patten, a noted entertainer, with whom I talked, said this: "Anyone who can win anywhere can win in Chicago."

That was enough. I started in my business there in 1907, and I am still at it. I started small all right, and there were times when I was plenty hungry! But what fun I have had!

Henry Ford started small and through big, but his greatest contribution was his courage, his faith and his turning into the outdoors millions of human beings who could afford his kind of car. In addition indirectly he made possible our fine modern highways. Henry Ford was a benefactor as well as a mechanical genius. And he was for America, but he hated war, God bless him!

Just Folks

YEARNING
The scenes that we loved in the day that are gone
Have little of charm now for me;

The lanes that we wandered and lingered upon,
I never more journey to see.
The trees do not whisper of love as of yore,

The skies do not wear the same blue;

Like my heart, they'll be lonesome and sad evermore.
We are yearning and pining for you.

The brook that went splashing and laughing along,
Now solemnly goes on its way;

The birds that we loved trill no longer in song.

Their music is hushed all the day.

They may seem as gay to the strangers who go
To the scenes that our early life knew;

But, sweetheart, our haunts seem to share in my woe —

Like my heart, they are yearning for you.

INSANE SLAYER FLEES HOSPITAL

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An insane slayer who vowed death to his victim's family escaped Thursday night from the maximum security ward of the Arizona State Hospital.

Police roadblocks were immediately set up in the Tucson area around homes of persons threatened by Paul Whalen, 30, after the 1957 slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Preelin Huff.

Hospital Super. Samuel Wick said Whalen and another inmate, Harold Bill, cut a wire screen on the porch of the security ward and fled into the night. Bill, 48, of Phoenix, was described as not dangerous.

Whalen told police that he killed the Huffs, a wealthy southeast Arizona couple, on orders from heaven to stamp out evil.

At the time, Whalen threatened to kill relatives of the Huffs, the arresting officers and his wife, who later divorced him.

After graduating from Ottawa University at Ottawa, Kansas, I debated about going to Chicago to start my fortune. But a dear friend, Cora Mel Patten, a noted entertainer, with whom I talked, said this: "Anyone who can win anywhere can win in Chicago."

Stevenson attracted 1,400 to a fund-raising rally scaled at $1,800 and $5.

Nixon made several passing fall issues Thursday night — "not face to face but back to back."

The old foes and potential future rivals for President spoke in adjoining halls of the massive Oaklawn Civic Auditorium. A thick fire wall separated Republicans from Democrats.

Nixon told the Republicans the Eisenhower administration opposes turning the islands of Quemoy and Matsu over to the Chinese Communists. He said to do so would be a reward for aggression.

Flexible Policy

The vice president spoke of the administration's policy as being flexible toward negotiation if the Chinese Communists agree to a cease-fire. But he said it is firm against yielding to the use of force.

Stevenson told the Democrats that the United States should make clear it will fight to defend Formosa, but that the tiny islands off the coast of China are another matter.

He said Quemoy and Matsu historically always have belonged to China. He also said the present fight between Nationalists and Communists is a continuation of the Chinese civil war in which he believes the United States should not intervene.

$100 A Plate Dinner

Nixon, winding up a campaign swing of his home state, spoke before 850 persons who paid $100 a plate for dinner, and 1,000 more who chipped in $5 each just to listen. He was flanked by Sen. William F. Knowland and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, Republican nominees for each other's present jobs.

Control Was Sharp

The 31-year-old right-hander also might have mentioned his sharp control. He issued only one base on balls, an intentional one to Mickey Mantle in the first inning.

Burdette preferred to dwell on the three-run homer he hit in the Braves' seven-run first inning, the Yankees' ninth-inning uprising and "the room."

Burdette denied that he let up in the ninth when Casey Stengel's athletes clipped him for four of their seven hits and three of their secret weapon on the Yankees.

"I honestly don't know why I can beat them, or how for that matter," he said. "There's no reason that I know of."

He might have pointed out that the Yankees just don't seem to be able to cope with his assortment of breaking pitches — screwballs, sinkers and sliders — especially when he keeps them low.

Lehigh, Termed Toughest Foe By Haas, Plays Here Saturday; Expect Throng

There has been little need for Coach Eugene Haas and his assistants to fire up their Gettysburg College football squad for its engagement with Lehigh University here Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Lehigh has won four straight from the Bullets and last year prevented the Bullets from winning an undefeated season with a 20-7 win.

A capacity crowd is practically assured for the game.

According to Coach Haas, Lehigh is the toughest opponent on the Bullets' 1958 schedule. "We want to beat the Engineers more than any other opponent on our schedule since they are the only team to hold a mastery over us in recent years." (Lehigh has won nine of the last 10 games.) In addition, Gettysburg has lost only one home game since 1952. That came in 1955 when the Engineers triumphed 21-18.

Top Spot At Stake

Saturday's victor will also go in to first place in the newly-formed University Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference. The Bullets topped Bucknell 6-0 and the Engineers edged highly-favored Delaware 8-7 last Saturday in opening division games.

Other division games scheduled Saturday include Muhlenberg at Lafayette, and Delaware at Temple.

Bill Leckonby has eight lettermen on his squad this year, led by Joe Wenzel, a 6-2, 190-pound end, who rates with the best. Last year he snatched eight passes against the Bullets.

The biggest loss to the Brown and White team via graduation was Dan Nolan, a Little All-America quarterback. His spot is being capably filled by Bill Schue, a left-handed sophomore.

Riley On Bullet Line

To contain the favored Engineers the Battlefields will rely strongly on their powerful defensive line which held Bucknell to a total of 37 yards while giving up only one first down. Their big forward wall, which Head Line Coach Gene Hume says "did all that was expected of it and 100% more," will once again be spearheaded by its "rock" and defensive captain Dave Yohn, Palmyra's 210-pound center. Radnor's 220-pound guard, Jules Prentiss, and Gloucester, New Jersey's 210-pound guard, Carl Schoenborn, will flank Dave making up what Head Coach Gene Haas calls "one of the most formidable interior lines in the state."

Tackle Jim Hess, Curwenville, is the only first string lineman who might not start Saturday, due to a shoulder injury. He was the only starting lineman who was substituted for in the Bucknell tilt, but has a very capable replacement in Clem Valco, a rugged 210-pound sophomore from Raritan, N. J.

Other than Hess the lineup will remain the same with tackle Marty Hoffman, Hershey, and ends Tom O'Malley, Pittsburgh, and Arloe Olsen, Hockessin, Delaware, rounding out the forward wall.

Praises Performances

When asked to single out any one of his front line performers after the Rota Bowl game, Coach Haas said, "It would be unfair to pick any lineman over the other since they all handled their defensive and offensive assignments perfectly and gave all that they had for 60 minutes. I would, however, like to praise Dick Davycock for his power running and gaining of yardage when we needed it." Davycock was voted the outstanding player of the Bucknell fray. Haas was quick to add, however, that halfbacks George Greiner, Lancaster, and Jim Flood, Abington, were hampered by the muddy turf since both are open field runners.

LARSEN TO HURL FOR YANKEES; HANEY SILENT

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves is a relatively quiet little strategist who seems to be getting a devilish delight in keeping Saturday's pitcher a secret.

But if it's not Bob Rush, the former hard luck right-hander of the Chicago Cubs who was 10-6 for the Braves this season, there will be few raised eyebrows.

Casey Stengel is already has named Don Larsen to try to retrieve Yankee prestige in the third game after New York dropped the first two.

With a twinkle in his eye, Haney has maintained a strict silence on his choice, avoiding all searching queries from newsmen as he departed Thursday night for New York.

Name Hurled Friday

"I'll make it official after our workout Friday afternoon," he said.

Haney also will not be trapped in saying anything detrimental about the Yankees. He is a great admirer and friend of Stengel's and this he respects on and off the field.

After Thursday's 13-5 clubbing the Braves gave New York, Haney took it with customary conservatism.

"You always look good when you are hitting and pitching," he said quietly. "It's far from over. They're tough and it's going to be a rugged series."

"Lew Burdette was just great out there for us. It was natural for him to let up in the 9th when he gave up 4 of his 7 hits. But by then we had about as many runs as we've had all season."

SENATOR GREEN IS 92; SHOOTS FOR CENTURY

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Spry and witty, Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), oldest man ever to serve in Congress, today entered his 92nd year whimsically considering wearing his toga to the centenary mark.

Green's 91st birthday was a bustling one. It included his usual daily two-mile walk, a family birthday party, the opening of countless congratulatory telegrams and a radio interview.

In the interview, the venerable chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he didn't think the United States had the "slightest obligation" to defend Quemoy and Matsu, and that to do would not be wise, adding: "We got in deeper than we should have."

Silent On Red China

Regarding U.S. recognition of Red China, he said: "I haven't said whether we should or should not recognize Red China. It depends on the circumstances under which it is proposed. There are many arguments on both sides. It appears to me that the arguments in favor are stronger, but I am not committing myself now. It is rather ridiculous make-believe on the

Wooden Nickels Cost 7 Cents Now

MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP)—The cost of wooden nickels has gone up to 7 cents.

The local Chamber of Commerce has been selling 5-cent pieces made of pine wood to merchants. They will be handed out free to customers after Oct. 16 as part of a promotion scheme.

The nickels are worth a nickel each to the customers. But what with the cost of pine wood and handling, merchants have been paying $7 for a hundred of the tokens.

POOR PAUL

GRANTS, N.M. (AP)—It wasn't Paul Klinchuk's day. He got in a fight with his wife, was beaten with a large bowl, and arrested. As he was being booked, his wife picked up an officer's gun and shot him in the hip.

part of the State Department to keep on recognizing that island of Formosa as China."

Referring to his own political career, Green said: "If I run again in 1960, a six-year term will take me to the age of 99 and I expect to serve until I'm 100. Would it be right for me to run for a six-year term when I only want to serve one year?"

Then he chuckled: "Of course, I'm not to be taken literally."

The bachelor senator's longevity prescription—exercise and relaxation.

Dulles Sends Assuring Note To Chiang Kai-shek

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has sent President Chiang Kai-Shek a message designed to assure him the United States is standing by its basic policies on Formosa and Nationalist China.

The nickels are worth a nickel each to the customers. But what with the cost of pine wood and handling, merchants have been paying $7 for a hundred of the tokens.

His statements were interpreted as meaning the United States was prepared to bargain with Red Chi-mado at a news conference Tuesday on the future status or at least the military use of Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Exclusive Interview

Chiang replied Wednesday in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press saying he found Dulles' news conference statements unbelievable and that the U.S. attitude expressed by Dulles appeared to be "completely incompatible" with Nationalist China's determination to defend Quemoy and Matsu.

While the Dulles message to Chiang was secret, officials informed of his thinking about the general problem of carrying on friendly relations with the Nationalist allies while trying to start active negotiations with the Communists, stressed these points:

In his news conference talk, Dulles imposed a major condition which the Communists would have to fulfill before the United States would wish to have a reduction or pullback of Nationalist forces from the coastal islands.

Dependable Cease Fire

The condition is that there must be a "dependable cease fire," and so far the Reds have rejected the whole idea of a cease fire.

Dulles left unchanged the U.S. pledge not to bargain with the Reds over any concession involving Nationalist Chinese rights. Specifically, he avoided any comment that would change the U.S. stand for leaving the legal title to Quemoy and Matsu in Nationalist control even if the defenses were modified.

But the get-together at a money-raising Republican rally Wednesday night also served to point up a lapse in harmony within GOP ranks.

Nixon endorsed the entire GOP state ticket.

So did Knowland. He mentioned Knight's candidacy for the U.S. Senate and said it's important for Republicans to present a united ticket.

"A Great Team"

"It's a great team," Knowland said.

Knight remained silent on Knowland. He has refused throughout the campaign to endorse the senator, whose decision to run for governor prompted Knight's reluctant switch to the Senate race.

Nixon, in his San Diego speech, accused the Democrats of "rot-gut thinking" and of playing politics with national security. He said that if there is a gap in American missiles development it's the fault of the Truman and not the Eisenhower administration.

Referring to Democratic criticism of President Eisenhower's defense policies, he told an estimated 5,500 people at the $5-a-head "Republican Roundup": "The grave danger is that the enemy might well believe this claptrap and make the mistake of launching war against us."

The outstanding debt on the engine house and new pumper of McSherrystown Fire Company was reduced $2,000 Wednesday night.

Francis Warner, president, announced that $1,500 was paid on the engine house mortgage, reducing the outstanding debt to $10,500. The $4,000 building was dedicated in July, 1953. Warner said that a total of $1,350, collected recently in coin-saver cards was used towards the building project.

The outstanding debt on the new pumper was reduced $500, leaving a balance of $9,000. The pumper was delivered to the company in February, 1956, at a cost of $19,000. Approximately $350 was recent at a recent three-day carnival was used towards reduction of the debt.

A public chicken dinner for benefit of the truck fund was scheduled for Saturday, October 18, and will be served in the engine house between 4 and 8 p.m.

Frank Henry and Joseph Thoman were enrolled as members.

GROSS $4 MILLION

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Dodgers may have played like a bunch of clowns at times this season, but nobody's laughing at them at the bank.

One estimate—admittedly unofficial—is that the club grossed more than four million dollars during its first year in Los Angeles.

This estimate is based on figures supplied by Coliseum General Manager Bill Nicholas.

"Wonderful Good" Food Draws Crowd

"Wonderful good" food in the finest of the Pennsylvania Dutch is what makes the Dutch Cupboard Tea House, 523 Baltimore St., a favorite dining spot for many tourists and the local set. Mrs. Margaret F. Scott, direct descendant of the Fife family that settled in the Blue Ridge Summit area in the late 1700s is the owner-hostess of this place of Dutch delight.

One is hard put to select a favorite dish from among the excellent servings at the Dutch Cupboard, but if one does arrive at a final selection, in all probability it will have been prepared from one of Mrs. Scott's valuable collection of original German recipes inherited from her great-grandmother.

The successful preparation of these traditional dishes, now almost a lost art in a day of canned goods and hurry-up cooking, has its secret in the use of pure butter and cream and choice other ingredients.

Famous For Sauerbraten

As it was with the German family, so it is at the Dutch Cupboard — mealtime is the highlight of the day. The German mother expressed her love of family by preparing eye-tempting meals which were delightful to taste and satisfying to eat, but above all, nourishing. It is the continuing of this tradition that sets the Dutch Cupboard above most restaurants.

One of the Dutch dishes for which the Cupboard has become famous is Sauerbraten, prepared in the true German method of pickling the beef in five crock stages for a week. Gourmets who have dined at the Dutch Cupboard declare that the Sauerbraten excels any that they have eaten anywhere.

Schnitz-Knepp, Dutch for dried apples and "buttons" — boiled dumplings — all served with a hot spicy sauce and country ham cured with apple and hickory wood, is a favorite with those who have tried it.

Practice Homespun Philosophy

Many guests have requested some of the Dutch "goodies" to take home. Homemade dressings, schmierkase and apple butter are often sought after by visitors anxious to share a bit of Dutch food with the home folks.

Souvenirs, recipe books and other gift items are available for those who wish to take home or give a reminder of pleasant days in the Dutch County.

The Pennsylvania Dutch saying, "Kissin' wears out—cookin' don't" is a bit of homespun philosophy practiced at the Dutch Cupboard.

Myers Air Sprayers Versatile

"There is a Myers air sprayer tailored for every spraying job, whether it is dilute, semi-concentrate or concentrate," says Glenn Hoke, proprietor of the Arendtsville Garage at Arendtsville where all types of Myers sprayers are sold.

Myers, with 12 outstanding air sprayers, offers fruit and crop growers a freedom of choice in selecting an air sprayer tailored for their exact spraying requirement, Mr. Hoke pointed out. "Whatever your grove or orchard requirements, there is a Myers air sprayer tailored to your needs."

All models have adjustable sliding covers for directing the spray pattern from the extra large circular base to meet all orchard requirements. "With 12 great models to choose from, more and more growers are buying Myers air sprayers for unmatched performance, efficiency and versatility. Growers everywhere who are using the Myers sprayers are reporting savings of material, labor and time along with resulting clean fruit than can demand premium prices," the Arendtsville dealer said.

Capable of delivering a variety of spray patterns, fruit leaves and twigs on overhanging branches from the closest trees are easily sprayed with the driving fog from the Myers sprayers. Adjustment can be made for higher trees and to get the desired distribution of percentages of the spray volume into the tree tops. Up to 45,000 CFM of air can be delivered for one-side spraying to penetrate heavy foliage. Two 26-inch centrifugal fans with dual air inlets and a special air outlet case provide for the spray efficiency and control.

Power for the 45,000 CFM class of Myers sprayers is delivered by heavy duty Chrysler Industrial No.

on 30-inch top-of-the-line models, rose-gold combination automatic oven timer and Minit Timer, Hi-speed broiler, lift-out surface units, non-fog oven windows and circuit protector which eliminates the need for fuses.

Eleven compact new Gibson Trimline room air conditioners and five heat pump models are also included in the Gibson line.

Low and thin, the Trimline units are offered in capacities of one, one and one-half, and two hp. in three series designed to appeal to every market and pocketbook.

Styling Distinctive

Features of the new line include panel dehumidification booster, exclusive air sweep automatic directional cooling, permanent electrostatic filters, ability to exhaust stale air and take in fresh air with or without cooling, installation flexibility and baffle beige decorative color styling. All models are designed for flush mounting with interior wall. A new dehumidifier has been added to the Gibson appliance line, featuring "furniture" styling, the famous Gibson Scotch Yoke compressor and an exclusive device that automatically turns the dehumidifier off and flashes a red light when the water container is full.

Furniture styling makes the unit appropriate for living rooms, recreation and play rooms or any other area where appearance is important. It has an attractive baffle beige case with a gold mesh front.

The Gibson Scotch Yoke compressor provides almost soundless operation and exceptionally long life.

UAW Goals Missed In Bargaining

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther set two main goals for 1958 bargaining with the Big Three automakers. He didn't get either one.

Reuther began beating the drums last year for a shorter work week labeling this as the UAW's No. 1 goal.

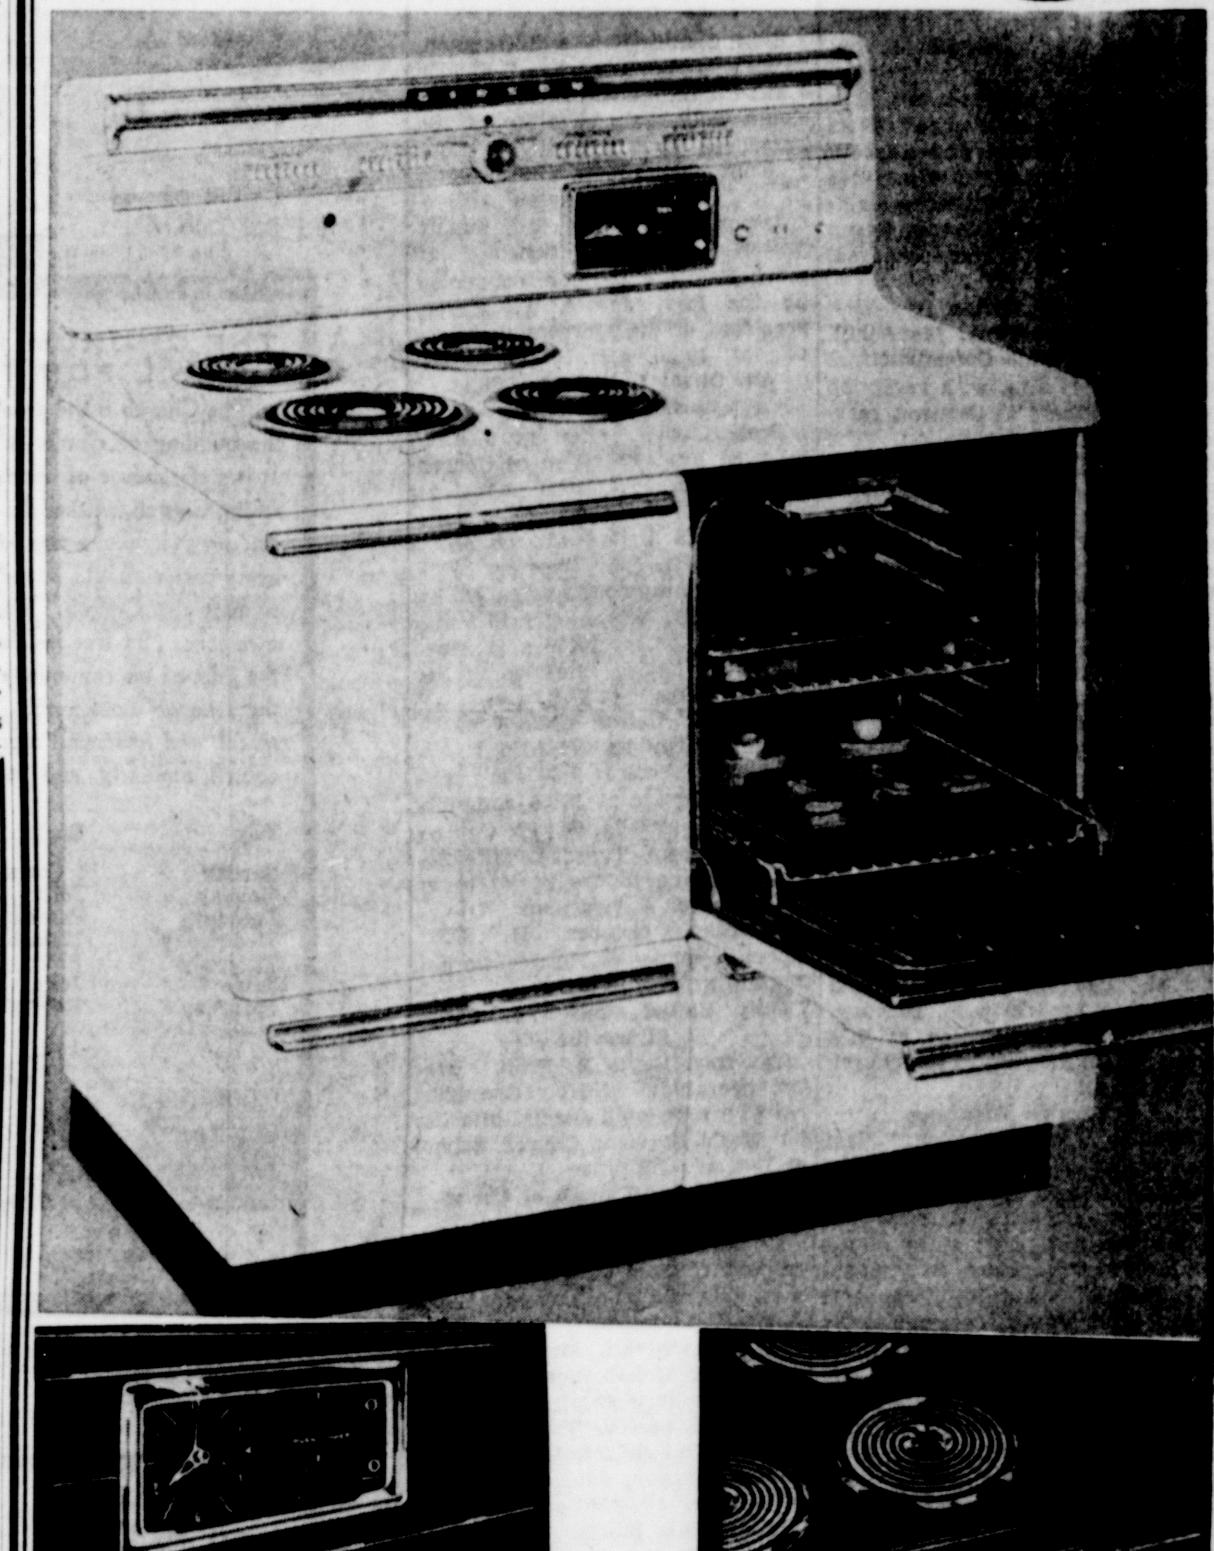

Then the union chief switched and made profit sharing his prime target. But this got sidetracked, too, before negotiations on new pacts started more than six months ago.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wheels in Motion

When the gears of a machine mesh together in motion, things begin to happen. Wheels turn, and power is transmitted to every part of the mechanism.

Prayer is something like that. Individual prayer is a vital and sacred thing. Each of us has moments when we—and we alone—must turn to God.

And collective prayer—mass prayer—can be a tremendous force for good too. It is as if thousands of "spiritual gears" suddenly were meshed together into a unit directed by a single purpose.

On Worldwide Communion Sunday, remember the power of collective prayer. Join with your neighbors throughout the globe by attending church and praying both for peace and for each other.

GM, UAW REACH PACT 12 HOURS AFTER STRIKE

By CHARLES C. CAIN

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors and the United Auto Workers reached contract agreement Thursday night after a 12-hour strike, but a return to work by 250,000 UAW members hinged on settlement of local plant grievances.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther hailed the national GM agreement as "good for the nation, good for the UAW and good for GM" but cautioned that GM workers at 126 plants across the nation were authorized to strike to back up local demands.

Both Reuther and GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton expressed hope the local grievances would be settled quickly so GM could get into full production of 1959 cars and trucks.

Back To Work Soon

Reuther told the GM locals to press for speedy settlement of differences and to return to work as soon as they are settled.

GM was the last of the automotive Big Three to agree with the UAW on a contract.

Ford settled Sept. 17 after a seven-hour strike. Chrysler settled Wednesday without a strike. However, Chrysler and UAW negotiators meet again today in an effort to reach a contract for some 19,000 salaried employees and skilled tradesmen not covered in Wednesday's agreement.

Ford, Chrysler

GM followed Ford and Chrysler in giving the UAW concessions, including continuation of pay boosts if the cost of living continues to increase, an increase in supplemental unemployment pay and a severance pay plan to take care of workers who lose their jobs when plants are closed or moved.

GM had insisted right up to the time of the strike that it would not give the UAW any concessions above those on which the union agreed with Ford and Chrysler.

More Gains

But in the settlement, Reuther obtained these additional gains:

SAY 458,000 UNEMPLOYED IN THIS STATE

HARRISBURG (AP) — There is no indication in the latest unemployment estimates that the recession has ended in Pennsylvania. Paul J. Smith, acting executive director of the Bureau of Employment Security, said today.

The Department of Labor and Industry estimated the total unemployment in Pennsylvania in mid-September at 458,000, or 9.7 per cent of the total labor force.

Although this was a drop from the mid-August figure of 479,000 William L. Batt Jr., secretary of labor and industry, noted it was the smallest drop for the period in five years.

Smith, whose bureau is part of the Department of Labor and Industry, said the significant factor in the estimate is that the month usually shows a sizable drop in unemployment with students who swelled the summer labor force returning to their schools and normal seasonal upturns in employment.

The implication is that the recession is not ending in industrial states like Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio and even in New York," Smith said.

A year ago, there were 240,000 unemployed, or 5.1 per cent of the labor force, in Pennsylvania. The total climbed steadily through the remainder of the year, reaching 7.4 per cent—347,000 persons—at the end of the year. It jumped two per cent, to 435,000, in January of this year and hit a peak of 520,000, or 10.9 per cent unemployed, in June.

Smith said, however, that the summer unemployment figures are distorted by students seeking summer jobs.

Leveiling Off At 9.7 Per cent.

"It would seem that the total unemployment is leveling off at about 9.7 per cent," he added. The highest number out of work in the earlier part of the year was 509,000 in April.

The lowest number of jobless workers in recent years was 4.2 per cent, 195,000, in October of 1956, and 3.8 per cent, or 175,000, in October of 1953.

The heavy rolls of unemployed already have assured a significant increase in employer payroll taxes next Jan. 1. Smith has flatly predicted that the tax will be levied across the board at 2.7 per cent, the maximum allowed. The present average is 1.99 per cent, with only 74,000 of the 196,000 affected firms paying the maximum.

The rate a company pays is determined by its labor turnover.

OLD SECRET DOCUMENTS ARE RELEASED

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon swung a major blow at unneeded secrecy today.

It ordered declassification of almost all military documents stamped top secret, secret and confidential before Jan. 1, 1946. Some date back to World War I days or before. Many millions of outdated documents are affected.

The declassification order was signed by Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy last Saturday, it was learned, and is due for formal announcement today.

Cleared By Time

The order also takes a preliminary jab at the continuing accumulation of classified papers. It orders the automatic downgrading, after a period of years, of documents labeled top secret.

Left for future action is a time-phased schedule that will remove all grades of secrecy from documents after they have been stored for a given number of years.

Specifically exempted from the mass declassification order are papers detailing U.S. and Allied war plans and almost everything connected with intelligence and counterintelligence.

Personnel and medical records also were excluded because their confidential nature is covered by numerous regulations, laws and customs that normally prevent the invasion of personal privacy.

Got Frogs All Right But Not "Picked"

SANTA FE, N.J. (AP) — An express company truck pulled up to Santa Fe High School with a crate loaded with 650 live, croaking frogs.

"Not No!" said Principal Tom Walsh. "That wasn't what I ordered."

He sent the live frogs right back where they came from — North Carolina.

What he really wanted was a shipment of pickled frogs, for use in the school's biology classes.

CAR SKUNKED

KENORA, Ont. (AP) — Glen Wiens of Steinbach, Man., stopped near here to let a skunk cross the road. Robert Sundquist of Keeewatin, Ont., driving the car behind, wasn't able to stop and his car was badly damaged. The skunk was unharmed.

The Eagles' National Life Insurance Company, for which this agency in General Agent in Adams, York and Franklin Counties, celebrates its eleventh birthday today. Maurice Spahn Jr., Pittsburgh, Pa., is President of the Company.

The Company is engaged in the sale of personal Sickness & Accident, and Hospital & Surgical insurance, as well as all forms of Life Insurance. This year the admitted assets of the Company exceeded a million dollars.

The Company was one of the pioneers in the field of family Hospital-Surgical insurance, and enjoys a wide patronage in this field. It also pioneered the popular life insurance policy known as "Guaranteed Cash Settlement," which returns to the policyholder all the annual premiums paid in at the end of the 22-year policy period. This contract is sold only in units of $2,500, although all other plans may be purchased in units of $500. The G.C.S. policyholder may, if he does not want to withdraw all the premiums paid, withdraw only part of them, and have his policy paid up in full for life.

The "Save $500" Policy for children has also proven popular. Combining features of the 20-year endowment and the 20-pay life, it provides up to $1,476 insurance in case of death, and $500 cash value at the end of the 20-year period.

Red-Haired Night Club Press Agent Is Aurora's New Chief

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — Date but ignored in his bingo war with Aurora police, Mayor Paul Egan has uncorked a real eyestopper in his bid for obedience and headlines—a lady police chief.

He announced that Lura Patricia (Patti) Counts, a red-haired night club press agent, is the new chief of police.

The 28-year-old green-eyed lass from Chicago has never dealt with the criminal element, but she says she's studied sociology. And she looked very well in a cheesecake pose for photographers.

"Ridiculous!"

"Press agentry," cried the opposition in this northern Illinois town of 55,000.

"It's just too ridiculous to comment upon," declared Donald Curran, whom Egan fired as police chief for not cracking down on bingo. Only he didn't go. And the City Council said he didn't have to.

Neither did the Police Department go when Egan suspended the entire 68-man force for listening to Curran.

She's The Chief

But as far as the fiery little mayor is concerned Miss Counts is the chief.

"Her success at Aurora will accrue to the benefit of the entire world," he proclaimed.

And said she: "I will fight those who oppose my appointment."

When somebody asked if she's tried to supplant Curran yet, she replied, "I've never met the man, but he's too much of a gentleman to throw me in jail."

Banks On Learning

Miss Counts will do her fighting without a gun, she says. She added that she's against capital punishment and will bank her success heavily on the sociology and economic courses she said she learned at Radford Teacher College in Radford, W. Va.

Miss Counts hasn't even been sworn in yet. Egan says he's wait-

FIRST NOVEL OF TV WORLD HAS APPEARED

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Many a person in television says he'd like to write a novel about this brave new entertainment world if only he had the time. Now one of the most influential men in TV programming has taken the time and produced one.

He is Robert L. Foreman, and his novel, published by Criterion, is entitled "The Hot Half Hour." As a vice president of the large advertising agency of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, Foreman reputedly breathes life and signs death warrants on more TV programs than practically anyone along Madison Avenue.

As the author of "The Hot Half Hour," Foreman is rather shy about his first novel. He obviously is not Tolstoy or Stendahl, but he has written entertainingly and with brevity about a business he knows thoroughly.

Concerns Quiz Show

Although the book concerns a TV quiz show, it was finished long before the current probe of quiz shows. Foreman, who puts in about 60 hours a week at his agency job, began it last December and finished it April 3. He must have written hard on weekends.

"Only on one week-end when the weather was lousy," says Foreman. "I wrote the rest of it in long hand on yellow sheets of paper while riding commuter trains between New York and Westport, or flying around the country on planes, or sitting up in bed at home nights."

"I'm a fly fisherman and I like to hunt and I didn't want to mess up my weekends sitting in the house writing."

Not A Novelist

"I've always wanted to write a novel," he said. "and it began to look as if I never would. Then last December, I sat down and wrote two chapters. No, I don't have the vaguest idea what started me. But I showed it to a lawyer friend of mine, a very smart guy, and he showed it to Criterion. 'They offered me a contract, but I wouldn't sign it because I was afraid I'd never get out of the plot I'd started and wouldn't be able to finish the book. But I went ahead, writing fast.'

"I'm not a novelist. I'm an avocational writer. Writing 'The Hot Half Hour' as an avocation I found stimulated me at my vocation, my job at B.B.D. & O. If I'd taken a year to write it, the book would more likely have been worse than better."

SEES WAGE TAX IF DEMOS WIN

PITTSBURGH (AP) — James F. Malone, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Assn., stepped into the statewide political picture actively Wednesday night by predicting a state wage tax will be levied if the Democrats win the November election.

Malone said that when Pittsburgh Mayor David Lawrence was seeking re-election in 1956, Lawrence denied that he would favor a wage tax. Subsequently a wage tax was enacted in Pittsburgh. Malone is the Democratic candidate for governor.

"I say that if Mayor Lawrence is elected governor you are going to have a wage tax," Malone told a Republican rally.

Malone said the Democrats will have a 4 to 3 majority on the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, adding:

"These four judges would have the final decision on whether any tax program passed by the Legislature was uniform under the constitution and that would be it. That is something for those who are fearful a graduated income tax to worry about."

and he showed it to Criterion.

"They offered me a contract, but I wouldn't sign it because I was afraid I'd never get out of the plot I'd started and wouldn't be able to finish the book. But I went ahead, writing fast."

"I'm not a novelist. I'm an avocational writer. Writing 'The Hot Half Hour' as an avocation I found stimulated me at my vocation, my job at B.B.D. & O. If I'd taken a year to write it, the book would more likely have been worse than better."

PRINCETON BOYS BUYS CARRIAGE, BORROWS HORSE

people around the campus and the town on party weekends at $3 for half an hour, and $5 a full hour.

The university, which has denied undergraduates the use of motor vehicles for three decades, gave Grinnell permission to drive the rig when he offered to use it for publicity purposes at football games.

How did Grinnell's parents react to having a carriage delivered at their home?

"They were in a state of shock," he admits.

But later, he says, his mother fell in love with the thing because it's so beautiful, and his father thought it might be good experience.

So, he got a horse.

More accurately, the enterprising sophomore from Rye, N.Y., got a carriage and borrowed the horse.

Grinnell, the great-grandson of a Springfield, Ohio, carriage builder, bought a buggy—a "Brewster brougham"—for $100. The green and black closed surrey was built in 1878, and originally sold for $2,000.

The 19-year-old coachman's total investment, counting renovating charges and stable fees, will come to about $900. He plans to buy his own horse when he can afford it.

As for his use of the rig, Grinnell has more than collegiate horseplay in mind. He plans to be secured from any of the following members: Robert L. Crouse Sr., Robert J. Stoenes, Elmer J. Redding, Edward Leister, Ernest Renner or W. E. Stites.

"Foods With A Flair: Attractive Leg Of Lamb

A breath of spring any day of the year — that's this leg of lamb. It's easy to prepare and easy to carve, and the family and guests alike will appreciate the choice of this popular meat cut.

Accenting the natural goodness of lamb with appropriate and attractive garnishes can be fun. Orange slices topped with pineapple tidbits and currant jelly provide the glamour touch for this roast. However, your imagination can be your guide to many new and different ideas. An important thing to remember when selecting a garnish is that the carver needs room to do a good job. The accents should be small, and, if they are to be served with the meat, easily handled.

For an average family a 5 to 6-pound leg of lamb is a good selection. Have your meat retailer remove the meat from the lower end of the shank bone. This procedure is known as "Frenching."

Also, make certain that the thin, paper-like covering surrounding the bulb of lamb is left on. This cover is known as the fell. It should not be removed before roasting, as it helps the meat retain its shape as well as more of the flavorful juices.

When you are ready to begin preparing the leg of lamb, first season with salt and pepper. Then place the roast skin side down on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert a meat thermometer so that the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part of the leg, being sure the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water and do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (300° F.) for 3 to 3½ hours or until done. The meat thermometer will register 175° F. when the roast is medium-done and 180° F. when it is well-done. Allow 30 to 35 minutes per pound for roasting.

At carving time the slices will cut much more easily if you allow the roast to "set" about 20 minutes before serving.

BARBECUED LAMB CHOPS

6 lamb arm or blade chops, cut ¾ inch thick

3 tablespoons lard or drippings

3 tablespoons flour

1½ teaspoons salt

½ teaspoon pepper

1 tablespoon brown sugar

2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce

2 tablespoons vinegar

1 tablespoon lemon juice

½ cup catchup

2 tablespoons prepared mustard

½ cup water

1 clove garlic, minced

½ cup chopped onion

Brown lamb chops on both sides and pour off drippings. Combine flour, salt, pepper, brown sugar, Worcestershire sauce, vinegar, lemon juice, catchup, mustard, water, garlic and onion. Mix well and pour over lamb chops. Cover tightly and simmer for 45 minutes to 1 hour or until meat is done. Turn chops occasionally. 6 servings.

PECAN PIE SHELL

1½ cups homemade pastry mix

2 to 4 tablespoons cold water

¼ cup chopped pecans

Measure pastry mix and add cold water, a small amount at a time, mixing quickly and evenly until dough just holds in a ball. Roll to ½ inch thickness. Spread chopped pecans over portion of pastry that will cover the bottom of a 9-inch pie plate. Roll nuts into dough lightly and line pie plate, allowing ½ inch crust to extend over edge. Fold edge under and crimp edge of pastry. Prick with fork and bake in hot over (450° F.) for 8 to 10 minutes.

MERINGUE

3 egg whites

½ teaspoon salt

½ teaspoon cream or tartar

6 tablespoons sugar

Beat egg whites, salt and cream of tartar until frothy. Add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating until meringue stands in stiff, shiny peaks.

STREAMLINED HAM ROLL

1 (4-pound) ham roll

Slice ham ½ inch thick. Place meat in heavy frying-pan. Do not add fat or water. Do not cover. Cook slowly, turning occasionally. Pour drippings from pan as they accumulate. Cook ham until lightly browned on both sides, allowing about 20 minutes total cooking time. 8 servings.

VEAL AU GRATIN

2 cups cubed cooked veal

3 cups sliced cooked potatoes

3 tablespoons butter or margarine

½ cup flour

1 teaspoon salt

½ teaspoon poultry seasoning

2 cups milk

2 tablespoons chopped parsley

1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese

½ cup minced onion

½ cup melted butter or margarine

Melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine in saucepan, add flour and mix until smooth. Add salt, pepper and poultry seasoning. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Add parsley, cheese and onion. Arrange potatoes, veal and sauce in alternate layers in a 2-quart casserole. Mix cracker crumbs and remaining melted butter or margarine. Top meat mixture with buttered cracker crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 25 minutes. 4 to 6 servings.

EASTBURGERS

2 pounds ground beef

1½ teaspoons salt

½ teaspoon pepper

1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

½ cup minced onion

6 slices tomatoes

6 slices American cheese (3-inch square slices)

Combine ground beef, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and onion. Shape into 12 thin patties, approximately 4 inches in diameter. Place a tomato slice and a slice of cheese on each of 6 patties and top with remaining patties; seal edges tightly so that tomato and cheese are completely covered. Place on rack in broiler pan. Broil 3 to 5 inches from heat about 8 minutes or until brown, turn and broil on second side until brown. Serve hot. 6 servings.

DREAM PUFFS

1 cup boiling water

½ cup lard

1 teaspoon salt

1 cup sifted enriched flour

Combine lard and salt to boiling water and stir over medium heat until mixture boils. Add flour all at once and stir constantly until ball forms in center of pan. Cool. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. (Mixture should be stiff.) Shape on greased cookie sheet, using a tablespoon of mixture for each puff. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 50 minutes. Cut slit in side and return to oven and bake 10 minutes longer. Cool. Fill with ice cream and bananas; top with chocolate sauce. Yield: 10 to 12 puffs.

PVT. PRESLEY MAKES PLANS TO HAVE SOME FUN

By RICHARD O'REGAN

FRIEDBERG, Germany (AP) — Pvt. Elvis Presley said Thursday he wants to meet German girls, see German opera and buy a guitar during his tour of duty with the U.S. Army in West Germany.

The rock 'n' roll singer, temporarily turned soldier, also said he still wants to meet French actress Brigitte Bardot.

The 23-year-old Presley held a news conference before 150 reporters and photographers in the enlisted men's club of the 3rd Armored Division. He arrived in this old German "garrison town" Wednesday night with 142 other recruits to start rigorous training as a tank crewman.

Some Opera Too

Of German girls, Presley said, "I've heard lots of rumors about them and I want to meet them."

What rumors? He quickly replied: "I'd better not answer that question. But nevertheless I would like to meet them."

"I would also like to see German opera and hear classic music concerts," he said. "I do not read music myself but I have a great admiration for musicians of all sorts."

Going To Get Guitar

"I hope to get a pass this weekend to go to Frankfurt to buy a guitar. I didn't bring one with me because I couldn't put it in my duffle bag. But it is hard to get along without one."

Presley appeared nervous before the battery of newsmen—both American and German. He frequently scratched his ear.

Asked about a New York statement that he would like to meet Bardot, he said he knew she was engaged to another guitarist —

New Automobile Goes Wrong Way

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Gen. Bogardus, 45, was in a hospital today because one of Studebaker-Packard's new "Lark" automobiles flew the wrong way.

Bogardus, a Studebaker employee, was driving a car off the assembly line Wednesday when the accelerator stuck. The car plunged through the gate of a freight elevator and 25 feet down the shaft.

The auto, which went into production only two days ago, landed on its top.

The vehicle reported Bogardus suffered only bruises.

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Four-year-old Robert Capps already has announced that he will be a minister. He told his father the reason is that ministers "work only one day a week."

BLAIR, Wis. (AP) — De Vere Dahl, 19, broke a local record in winning the raw egg eating contest at the Blair Egg Festival.

Dahl downed 70 eggs to smash the old mark of 66.

Sascha Distel — and added: "I got sort of shot out of the saddle on that one."

No Craps For Elvis

Still, he said, "I admire her very much. She has a terrific personality and I would consider it a privilege to meet her."

Of Army life, Presley said soldiers frequently have asked him to shoot craps "but I never indulge because it would have a bad effect on the young people. They would lose their respect for me."

He said he had lost 10 pounds since entering the Army and added: "I expected a lot of kidding when I entered the Army. I thought the other soldiers would give me a hard time. Actually, it has been the complete opposite."

CORN PICKING CONTEST TO BE VISITED BY IKE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has added an appearance at the National Corn-Picking Contest in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Oct. 17 to his growing pre-election travel plans.

The White House said it is probable—though still not definite—that he will campaign in New York City, Oct. 12.

The auto, which went into production only two days ago, landed on its top.

The vehicle reported Bogardus suffered only bruises.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four-year-old Robert Capps already has announced that he will be a minister.

He told his father the reason is that ministers "work only one day a week."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President James C. Hagerty told reporters that additional speeches may be scheduled within the next few days, giving Eisenhower a bigger role in the Republican congressional drive out of what the President has called apathy.

President's Press Secretary

James C. Hagerty told reporters that additional speeches may be scheduled within the next few days, giving Eisenhower a bigger role in the Republican congressional drive out of what the President has called apathy.

In order to visit Cedar Rapids, Eisenhower will extend a previously announced Western trip. It had been scheduled to start with a visit to Los Angeles Oct. 20. Instead, Eisenhower will leave Washington Oct. 17 with Mrs. Eisenhower. They will visit the corn-picking competition at Cedar Rapids that day, and the President will at least say a few words.

The Eisenhowers will move from there to Abilene, Kan., to visit the Eisenhower Museum established in the President's home town.

Then, for the first time since his heart attack three years ago, the Eisenhowers will make a two-night stay in Denver, Colo., home of Mrs. Eisenhower's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

The President has been through the mile-high Colorado capital since his heart attack there but did not leave the airport.

After spending Saturday and Sunday nights in Denver, Eisenhower will fly to Los Angeles Monday morning, Oct. 20, to deliver a television speech over a regional network. This will be followed by another television broadcast Tuesday morning, Oct. 21, in San Francisco.

Plans for Columbus Day

Heading back East, Eisenhower will make a Chicago address the night of Oct. 22.

Hagerty said he may soon announce "some political activity" in New York on Columbus Day, Oct. 12, when Eisenhower will attend a wreath-laying ceremony at Columbus Circle and lay the cornerstone of the 20-million-dollar Interchurch Center in the Columbia University area.
